DRUG SAVINGS MANAGEMENT

MC-Rx's Drug Savings Management program reduces drug costs by reviewing high cost medications dispensed to your members that have lower cost alternatives with the same efficacy for the same condition (therapeutically equivalent). When these opportunities are identified, certified pharmacy technicians (CPTs) will call the physician to recommend a lower cost drug that is on your current formulary, providing savings to you.

MC-Rx fees are 25% of the healthcare savings. Drug savings is defined as the cost difference in total price between the original prescription and the converted prescription for each converted prescription dispensed. Drug savings will be reported and fees billed on a monthly basis, showing all converted prescriptions filled during the month.

- Example 1: Drug A is replaced by Drug B on January 15th with a savings to YOU of $300 per fill. The prescription is filled for a member every month for 12 consecutive months. For that converted prescription, you would owe MC-Rx $75.00 each month.
- Example 2: Drug C is replaced by Drug D on March 15th with a savings of $400 per fill. The prescription is filled for a member every month for 12 consecutive months except for December. For that converted prescription, you would owe MC-Rx $100.00 each month except for December when no savings were realized.

Analytics/Risk Stratification

MC-Rx includes our analytic services at no additional fee. To get started, we will need pharmacy and medical claims data to effectively evaluate drug savings opportunities. Eligibility, workers' compensation, lab, absenteeism, and other data may be imported at the client's request to better evaluate members at risk.

MC-Rx offers other services that lower cost, decrease risk, or improve member health.

These services may be proposed, as appropriate, during quarterly meetings to review status/results.

When proposed services are accepted by the customer, the service agreement will be modified to include them.

ProCare Rx and MC-21 are URAC-accredited for Pharmacy Benefit Management Services.

ProCare PharmacyCare is URAC-accredited for Mail Order Services.

ProCare HospiceCare is an ANCC-accredited Provider.
